

Disaster Recovery and Business Continuity

Webinar

April 10, 2019 | 2:00-3:00pm CST

73% of organizations that experienced a systems failure were down for 30 minutes or more! (2017 State of Resilience Report) This presentation will communicate business continuity and survival by leading your organization through three essential steps. We will discuss in general terms the concepts of business continuity and disaster planning. We will focus primarily on specific IT strategies you can easily and affordably implement. Objectives of this webinar:

- Learn to identify objectives for recovery time and data protection
- Understand threats and regulations that impact your business
- Compare and contrast common downtime protection methods

Ricky Smith, President

Innovative Business Technologies, Inc.

Ricky Smith is the President of Innovative Business Technologies, a SOC II compliant Cloud Service Provider and Managed IT Service organization that works primarily with healthcare providers. Prior to IBT, Ricky spent 11 years with the homecare and hospice product group of McKesson Information Solutions. As Director of Technical Services, he became passionate about IT's ability to facilitate patient care. In addition to 20 plus years in IT health-care, Ricky spent several years as a systems engineer and telecommunications technician in a high-profile financial and chemical engineering sector. Ongoing research on technology trends, as it relates to healthcare providers, allows him to maintain expertise in data security, compliancy, business continuity, and risk analysis.
