8:45 a.m. – 9:00 a.m.	Link opens and Welcome by MJPS Board
9:00 a.m. – 11:00 a.m.	The Danger of the “Broad Brush” Mentality: Navigating Bias in a Volatile World The world is a different place now than it was a year ago, but diversity and the missteps that occur when navigating across cultures and difference are not new. This training will offer current and relevant support for navigating the difficult waters of equity and diversity through the lens of staff that work in law enforcement and with justice-involved individuals. The training will provide tools and mental models that ease the stress of navigating bias. Presenters: Kelsey Demmert and Leondo Henry- Dakota County Sheriff’s Office
11:00 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.	Break for Lunch
11:30 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.	MJPS Business Meeting & District Updates
12:30 p.m. – 2:30 p.m.	The Explosive Effects of Living in Pain: Best Practices in Domestic Violence Interventions This presentation will provide information on the integrated risk factors leading to the commitment of domestic violence actions including such things as childhood abuse, lack of emotional regulation abilities, anti-social, power-based belief systems, and substance misuse. With this context we will then focus on evidence-based practices in Domestic Violence interventions and seek to answer the following questions: What are the skills and tools needed to change behavior and end the cycle of domestic violence and how can we, as criminal justice professionals, best intervene with the perpetrators of domestic violence? To answer these questions an overview of a newly revised, research-based, integrated program designed to be delivered by criminal justice professionals to perpetrators of domestic violence in either custody or community settings will be provided. Presenter: Nicole Kimberley-Staeheli, MATS
2:30 p.m. – 2:35 p.m.	Closing Remarks
