September 24, 2020 from 0830-1630

(This class was originally scheduled on April 8 in St. Paul)

This one day class is taught by long-time legal counsel and nationally recognized public employment law attorney Rick Hodsdon. Rick covers all the danger points and provides practical techniques for doing personnel investigations. Rick has spent all of his professional life representing and defending state and local officials, conducting criminal prosecutions, and training and advising criminal justice and government officials.

Course Description

This personnel related course covers the myth and reality of discipline investigations, Garrity, Weingarten, Loudermill, due process and constitutional issues. This course is designed for any person who hires, manages, evaluates or supports law enforcement personnel, whether full-time, part-time or volunteer. Both civilian and sworn supervisors, human resources personnel, county administration and county attorneys will benefit from this training.

Class Date: September 24, 2020 8:30 AM – 4:30 PM

POST and CLE Credits: 7
